DUTCH INDIES BATTLE RAGES IN BLOODY FURY, HEAVY ARTILLERY STRUGGLE ALONG PHILIPPINES

Says Hill Had Talked To Vierick

Mrs. Spielman Asserts Rep. Fish's Secretary Talked on Phone to German Agent
Hill Indicted
After Appearing Before District Grand Jury on Nazi Propaganda

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Phyllis Posivio Spielman, a secretary of the late Senator Ernest Lundeen, testified in district court today that she twice heard George Sylvester Vierick, a registered German agent, hold telephone conversations with George Hill, second secretary to Rep. Fish (R., N. Y.), who is on trial on charges of falsely denying that he knew Vierick.

Mrs. Spielman said that on the two occasions when Vierick talked to Hill, Senator Lundeen spoke to Hill and then turned the telephone over to Vierick for conversations concerning speeches delivered before the Senate by Lundeen which were written by Vierick and prepared for mailing by Hill.

Hill was indicted on two perjury charges after appearing before a district grand jury investigating Nazi propaganda activities. One charged he falsely told the grand jury he did not know Vierick and the other involved Hill's denial that he had ordered eight mail bags containing franked congressional material placed in a storeroom used by Rep. Fish.

The witness said that she had about 100,000 copies of "Six Men and War" turned over to Hill, in Fish's office, for mailing, after Vierick told Senator Lundeen he knew that Hill would handle the mailing. She said "Six Men and War" was a speech Senator Lundeen said he would have put in the Congressional Record.

Talk at Capitol Of 25 Cent Cotton

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—There was talk at the capital today of 25 cent cotton—music in many a southerner's ear—as a joint Senate and House conference committee prepared to rewrite the administration's battered price control bill.

The measure was approved Saturday by the Senate, 81 to 1. Senator Nye (R., N. D.), the dissenter, opposed it because it contained no wage controls. The House previously had passed the measure in much different form. Senator Brown (D., Mich.), chairman of the Senate conferees and opponent of most of the amendments forced into the bill by an adamant farm block, said that as the measure now stood it probably would permit cotton to go to 22 cents a pound before any price controls could be instituted. Cotton now is about 18 cents a pound.

But some members of the farm bloc said they thought cotton might reach 25 cents a pound, if all of the amendments were retained.

Mme. Koussevitzky Dead

Brookline, Mass., Jan. 12 (AP)—Mme. Natalia Koussevitzky, 61, wife of Boston Symphony Conductor Serge Koussevitzky, died late last night in her home here after a long illness. A prominent sculptor in her own right, Mme. Koussevitzky had been failing for more than a year. Among her best-known sculptured work were the heads of Jan Sibelius, Maurice Ravel and her husband. She was born in Viatka, northern Russia, and her maiden name was Natalia Ouchkoff. Mme. Koussevitzky was a wealthy girl of 21 when she first met Koussevitzky, a promising young double bass fiddler, in Moscow in 1901.

Battle Against Lice

Bern, Jan. 12 (AP)—Germany, combatting an outbreak of typhus fever, recently has rushed hundreds of additional doctors and nurses to the eastern front and established an anti-epidemic center at Warsaw, the Berlin correspondent of the Swiss newspaper National Zeitung reported today. A "battle against lice," the chief carrier of typhus, has resulted. Nazi soldiers, wearing heavy clothing for long periods without washing them, the newspaper said, have been beset with lice.

The Marbletown Defense Council in the Sally Tock Building on Main street in Stone Ridge, is now taking registration for Civilian Defense. Everybody is requested to register. The figure until Saturday noon was 550 as may be seen in the above photo. Standing left to right are Harry M. Green, vice chairman and director of Civilian Protection; Mrs. Leon E. Chambers, Charles C. Walden, Jr., chairman of Marbletown Defense Council.

Ask Congress to Overhaul Excess Profits, Boost War Industries

Officials Plan Maximum Prices For Used Tires

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—Government price officials worked today on a plan to fix maximum prices for used tires after laying down a ceiling on charges for tire retreading to halt "exploitation" of the public.

Leon Henderson, the price administrator, announced the retread price schedule yesterday in a statement saying that profiteering in the used and retread tire business had become so flagrant it "cannot and will not be allowed to continue."

The schedule goes into effect next Monday and Henderson said it would be followed shortly by an order limiting the resale price of used tires.

Persons retreading or top capping the 6.00 x 16 tires commonly used on low priced passenger cars may charge no more than $7.50 if best grade cambelback is used, or $6.45 if the work with second grade cambelback. Retreaders apply new rubber on tire tread surfaces and side walls, recappers to only the tread surface. Both use a material called cambelback.

If dealers sell retreaded tires they may charge the maximum retreading fee for the type involved. Cotton now is about 18 cents a pound.

Sugar Prices Up

New York, Jan. 12 (AP)—Leading sugar refiners today announced an increase of 1/5 cent a pound to 5.45 cents in the price of whole-sale refined sugar.

Senator Connally Claims Some Companies Are Making Fortunes Out of Defense

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—Thorough overhauling of the excess profits tax system and the enactment of drastic levies which would skim off the major share of corporation earnings from war production operations were proposed today by Senator Connally (D., Tex.), a member of the Senate finance committee.

Amid signs that Congress was growing impatient at the reputed failure of the treasury to explore new fields of taxation, Connally said he was certain there would be strong support for upward revision of levies which now range from 35 to 60 per cent of profits classed as "excess."

"Some of these companies are making fortunes out of defense contracts," the Texas senator told reporters. "We can get some of the money from them and we ought to overhaul the excess profits tax thoroughly."

This might involve, Connally said, a change in the method of computing such taxes. Corporations now have the alternative of figuring their excess profits levies on the basis of their invested capital or on the standard of past profits.

The invested capital formula, favored by the treasury in the past, has been opposed by Chairman George (D.-Ga.) of the finance committee, who contended that many corporations with large capital stock issues thus avoided

Warning on Food Supply and Food Concern of Prices

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—Declaring the war was placing new, unexpected and as yet unmeasurable demands upon this country for food, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard today cautioned Americans against being excessively concerned about prices and too complacent about supplies.

He voiced this warning in an interview explaining why he had asked Congress to vest in him, rather than in a separate price administrator, the power to set ceilings on farm products. The Senate in effect gave him that power in a price control bill passed Saturday, despite a request of President Roosevelt that all price control be vested in a single administrator. Congressional action on the legislation has not been completed, however.

Emphasizing that he did not wish to alarm consumers, Wickard said they should nevertheless recognize now that events since Pearl Harbor had greatly altered the food situation. Before Japan struck, demands were limited mostly to this country and Great Britain. Supplies and production prospects appeared ample then.

"But today no one can tell," the secretary said, "what the demands upon us may be before the war is won. We may be called upon to furnish vast supplies to Allied fighting forces and peoples all over the world. We may want to send huge quantities of food as well as munitions to the conquered peoples at the proper time so that they might help defeat the dictators."

"In view of this prospect, I am concerned," Wickard said, "that the American people are more concerned about prices than the possibility that, in the future, demands might outstrip supplies."

Agriculture, he said, faces a production job comparable in size to that of the munitions makers. New Food production goals to be announced soon will surpass anything ever attempted in this country, he said.

5 Week-End Fatalities In Upstate New York

Albany, N. Y.—Upstate New York had five week-end fatalities, two of which involved automobiles.

Victims by communities: Penn Yan—Robert Eugene Green, 10; truck hit his sled. Plattsburg—Walter Gero, 30, Ausable; automobile plunged off bridge.

Mechanicville—Mrs. Anna Karonticz, 70; in bedroom fire. Oneida—Charles A. McCormick, 44; burned as fire destroyed home.

Pittsford—William Moore, 13; shot in head as rifle accidentally discharged.

No Showdown Now With Japan, Says Secretary of Navy

Battle of the Atlantic Is Still War's Most Important Fight, Knox Asserts

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Knox said today that while the American fleet was not idle no early conclusive showdown could be expected with the Japanese fleet and that the battle of the Atlantic was still the war's most important struggle.

The navy's number one job, he said in a speech prepared for the annual United States Conference of Mayors, is keeping the sea lanes open between America and Britain to bring about the defeat of Hitler's Germany—"our great enemy."

"I would not be frank with you if I led you to believe that you could expect favorable, dramatic developments of triumph and American, full-scale naval engagements in the Pacific in the near future," Knox said.

"The elements of distance, of time, and the necessarily wide distribution of our naval forces preclude what I know you all wish me to suggest: Early conclusive showdown with the Japanese navy. But you know that by this I do not mean to imply that the Pacific fleet is idle."

"It is not idle and you will hear from it again and again when and where careful strategic considerations dictate."

Pointing out that Germany, by bringing Japan into the war sought to divert the attention of America and Britain from the Atlantic, Secretary Knox told the mayors:

"It might easily have led to action out of the excess of righteous anger but the cool-headed leadership provided by our commander-in-chief, the President, kept us safe from that danger. Under Roosevelt, we have kept our heads and we will make our own plans in our own way and we will strike where and when we are ready, not before."

"We know who our great enemy is. The enemy who before all others must be defeated first. It is not Japan, it is not Italy. It is Hitler and Hitler's Nazis. Hitler's Germany. It is Hitler we must destroy."

"That done, the whole Axis fabric will collapse."

The greatest threat to Hitler's plan of conquest, Knox said, was the United States' productive capacity. To divert it from Britain and Russia, Hitler made Japan his "useful utensil" just as he did Italy, he added.

"The great highway between America and Britain is open," Knox declared, despite the fact that Germany has been using all its power to cut it.

Order Reserve Officers Back to Active Duty

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—Twenty-six reserve officers, including men prominent in the business and professional world, have been ordered to active duty, the Marine Corps announced today.

They will report between January 15 and January 20 at the Quantico, Va., marine barracks to learn the use of modern methods and weapons.

The group included Majors Bernard W. Bierman and Leroy B. "Pat" Hanley, head football coaches at the University of Minnesota and Boston University.

Among others were: Majors Harry G. Fortune of Pleasantville, N. Y.; Howard W. Houck of Brooklyn, who for 17 years was in the Bureau of Criminal Information of the New York police department; Mark F. Kesensich of Long Island, N. Y.; Frank A. Mallen of Tuckahoe, N. Y.; Thomas E. Ringwood of Montauk, N. Y.

Reinforcements

J. M. Makin, Australian navy minister, announced in Sydney in a speech that U. S. and British reinforcements are en route to the Far East for the protection of Australia.

Japs Continue to Tighten Offensive On Singapore Base

Make Three Landings on Dutch Island of Celebes and Claim Capture of Oil Island

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Wide World War Analyst)

The Japanese continue to clamp tighter the pincers with which they are striving to clutch the key defensive base of Singapore and the rich Dutch East Indies.

The heavy Jap offensive down the Malayan peninsula towards Singapore has forced a further withdrawal of the British and apparently the abandonment of Kuala Lumpur, known as the crude rubber capital of the world. The Nipponese also have made three fresh landings on the Dutch island of Celebes and claim capture of the Dutch oil island of Tarakan off Borneo.

This means that the Japanese have acquired fresh bases much closer to their quarry. The increase of the air-threat to the allies in these gains is particularly serious. And, of course, the corollary must be the loss of valuable defensive bases to the allies. However, nothing approaching a decisive action has yet taken place.

One of the most promising developments in the battle of the Pacific from the Allied standpoint is the remarkable striking power and morale displayed by the Chinese in fresh offensives against the Japanese in several strategic sectors of the long front. The outstanding example of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's new-born initiative thus far has been the disastrous defeat administered to the invaders at the important city of Changsha, Hunan province. This really great triumph is reported today to have cost the Japs 45,000 casualties already, and the mopping-up is continuing.

Such a grand exhibition by the Chinese, after five terrible years of standing off the far better equipped war-machine of the Mikado, certainly couldn't be anticipated. That makes it the more pleasing to see them now demonstrate that the rising sun has got to climb a lot higher in the sky before its rays carry light

Jap Gamble For Quick Win Comes Nearer Singapore

Icy Roads Cause Auto Collisions

One Personal Injury Is Reported to Police

Icy road conditions were said to have been the principal cause of several automobile collisions reported in Kingston over the weekend in which automobiles were damaged, but only one personal injury, and that slight, was reported to the police department.

At 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon the automobile driven by Miss Agnes Fowler of 132 Stephan street, was forced off the road into a ditch on Flatbush avenue. The auto was damaged slightly, but Miss Fowler reported no injuries.

George Anderson, 20, of 57 Elmendorf street suffered a face laceration Sunday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock when his car was struck by an automobile driven by Raymond Quackenbush of Bellvale, at the intersection of Albany avenue and St. James street. According to the police report the Quackenbush car skidded into the Anderson auto.

At 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon while the automobile of Lawrence Levine of 66 Pine Grove avenue was halted waiting for the traffic light to turn green at St. James street and Broadway, his car was struck in the rear by another auto. Saturday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock automobiles driven by Robert Rockwell of this city and John King of Saugerties, collided at Henry and Fair streets.

At 2:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon a truck operated by Thomas McAuliffe of West Hurley was in collision with an auto driven by Anna Atkins of Port Jervis at Main and Wall streets.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—The position of the treasury January 9: Receipts $23,081,329.70. Expenditures $77,104,470.51. Net balance $3,546,799.70. Working balance included $2,588,393.69. Customs receipts for month $9,079,556.79. Receipts fiscal year (July 1) $4,367,484,907.97. Expenditures fiscal year $12,263,234,028.30. Excess of expenditures $7,895,749,120.33. Gross debt $58,286,450,356.35. Increase over previous day $22,847,155.25. Gold assets $22,742,564,278.66.

Highest Birth Rate Lowest Death Rate

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 12 (AP)—New York's November birth rate, 14.5 per 1,000 population, was the highest for the month in nine years, while the death rate, 10.6, has never been lower in November.

Infant mortality, 35 deaths under one year per 1,000 live births, was the lowest ever recorded for the month, the state health department reports. Maternal mortality, 21 per 10,000 births, also set a new low—20 per cent below the corresponding 1940 figure.

New minimums also were recorded for tuberculosis, influenza, pneumonia, nephritis, appendicitis and accidents, exclusive of automobile fatalities. Traffic deaths were slightly higher than a year earlier.

Legislature's War Program to Ask Participation of Every Citizen

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 12 (AP)—Measures compelling every New York citizen to participate in defense activities and execute assignments appeared today to comprise the next step in the legislature's war program.

Returning for the night session which will follow the first blackout of the capital city area, legislators awaited the state defense council's initial report on 17 months of work with expectation of an early request for sweeping powers over all able citizens not in the armed services.

Legislative developments at the opening of the session's second week also included: Mounting belief reappointment of legislative districts is doomed for this year because of

Dutch Striking at Invasion Footholds Have Aid of U. S. Australian Planes

A heavy artillery battle along the entire front in the Philippines was reported today by the War Department in Washington, with ground activity increasing as fresh Japanese troops moved up, accompanied by renewed air attacks on American and Philippine defenses.

Dutch fighters by land and air struck at invasion footholds gained by the Japanese over the weekend and claimed that, with Allied aid, they had showered two Japanese cruisers, a destroyer and two transports with bombs.

The outcome of the land, sea and air battles for vital outposts in the Dutch archipelago was still in the balance, the fighting was mounting in bloody, destructive fury.

For assistance, the Dutch had United States warships and American and Australian planes.

"Our Allies are energetically taking part in the fight against the invaders," said a communiqué.

"Allied planes yesterday shot down four Japanese planes over Minahassa while they further scored two direct hits on a Japanese cruiser and a near miss on a destroyer.

"This morning two Australian planes near Menado were shot down in flames by the Japanese."

"Our bombers this morning scored a direct hit on a Japanese cruiser lying off Taranan while our Glenn Martin bombers also scored two direct hits on two Japanese transport ships lying there."

The Dutch surprisingly found it possible also to help in the defense of Singapore. N.E.I. fighters were said to have shot down three Japanese raiders attacking the British base this morning.

In the Philippines, Washington announced, a heavy artillery battle flamed along the entire front. Ground activity increased and air attacks were renewed as the Japanese moved fresh troops into front line positions. Indications were that a new Japanese offensive was at hand.

The Japanese appeared intent upon wiping out the valiant resistance of General Douglas MacArthur and his American-Philippine army which stood as a diversion of strong Japanese forces from other theaters of the war.

Japan would need thousands of additional troops to close in on Singapore or to expand her invasion footholds in the N.E.I.

The most that Japan could claim after the first shock of her attack on the N.E.I. was possession of the small city of Menado, on northern Celebes, a narrow arm of the Dutch archipelago, south of the Philippines, and the island of Tarakan, off the coast of Dutch Borneo, to the northwest of Celebes.

Both points were naturally difficult to defend.

In Malaya, the Japanese, despite the succession of British imperial withdrawals, were still more than 150 miles from Singapore on the western side of Malaya and probably no closer on the eastern side, although there has been little exact word on the locations of that front.

Nevertheless the Japanese had negotiated an important barrier on their way toward Singapore with the capture of Kuala Lumpur.

Kuala Lumpur Lost
Loss of Kuala Lumpur, second largest city of British Malaya, was indicated meanwhile by the British.

ish when they acknowledged another retreat on the road to Singapore—withdrawal to new positions before Seremban, 35 miles southeast of Kuala Lumpur. The Japanese followed the imperial forces with heavy assaults.

Tokyo announced officially that troops on Sunday entered Kuala Lumpur, one of the greatest centers for crude rubber in the world and capital of the federated Malay states. Kuala Lumpur is in Selangor.

With British withdrawal to the Seremban line, the battle for Singapore moved into another stage of Malaya, Negri Sembilan, the last one on the northeast before Johore, which takes up the southernmost tip of the Malay peninsula.

Across a narrow strip of water from the Johore shore lies the island of Singapore, bristling with guns, modern fortifications and naval installations—the place which the British long have called their Gibraltar of the east, pivot of united nations strategic hopes in the Far East.

Regardless of the sweep of the Japanese through almost two thirds of Malaya in little more than a month of war, Singapore will be no easy nut to crack. The most the Japanese can hope for is a costly victory after terrible siege.

The Japanese supplemented their drive toward Singapore from the northwest with fierce air attacks. The Japanese said that a packed troop train was toppled from the track near Tampin by a bomb hit. Tampin is about 20 miles below Seremban.

"Our withdrawal was closely followed up by enemy infantry, with continued attacks from enemy aircraft," said the British communiqué.

"Severe fighting continues in the Selangor area," the bulletin added, indicating that all of Selangor state might not yet be lost although this might have been British rearguard action to slow the Japanese pursuit.

The Japanese supplemented their claims of farflung land successes with an announcement that army planes sank a 3,000-ton merchant ship and damaged two submarines on Saturday in Malacca Strait between Malaya and the Dutch island of Sumatra.

The Japanese were finding a terrific resistance to their assault on the outposts of the Dutch archipelago. A Dutch communiqué said that N.E.L. forces were locked in bitter combat with enemy parachute troops which, with sea-borne forces, yesterday sought to envelop three strategic positions in the Minahassa area, northern arm of the Celebes.

The Japanese swept into the East Indies waters Saturday and began putting men ashore at four points during the night.

Menado, one of the first objectives of the Japanese, has a population of about 12,000. It is the capital of the Dutch residency of the same name and is situated on the Tondano river.

The Japanese found the Dutch putting up their promised fierce resistance, aided to the north by smashing blows of the United States army air corps.

Break Winter Line

Moscow, Jan. 12 (AP)—Onrushing Russian soldiers have broken the New German winter defense line between Vyazma and Bryansk, on the central front, by capturing the steel-producing center of Lyudino, it was reported today.

The midnight Russian communiqué announced the recapture of Lyudino, 40 miles north of Bryansk, and the capture of the important railway junction of Tikhonovo, a few miles north of Kaluga, which is almost halfway between Moscow and Bryansk.

A mid-day communiqué reported continued successes, chief of which was "annihilation of 2,700 German officers and men" and destruction of five anti-aircraft batteries and three trench mortar batteries during a two-day battle on the southern front.

This communiqué added that Soviet troops had occupied "another populated place" and annihilated a German infantry battalion on the central front and wiped out 240 officers and men and destroyed six enemy tanks in another unidentified sector.

(Adolf Hitler was said January 11 in Stockholm reports to London to have set up headquarters at Lyudino, 220 miles west of Moscow, 110 miles northwest of Smolensk, after taking personal charge of the German army. He was reported then to have ordered his men to hold the Vyazma-Bryansk line at all costs.

(A British radio broadcast heard by C.B.S. quoted a Kuliyshev spokesman as declaring the Russians were within 80 miles of Smolensk and moving forward rapidly. The locality of the advance was not given but might mean that the Russians already had swept beyond Lyudino, or possibly the recently-captured city of Mosalsk, 120 miles east of Smolensk.

The latest Russian advance meant, it was said, that the Soviet forces were firmly astride the vital railway system linking Smolensk and Ukraine; that Bryansk, a major railway junction, was definitely threatened; and that Orel, 75 miles east of Bryansk on the Moscow-Kharkov railroad had been flanked.

Renew Pressure For War Bases In Neutral Eire

London, Jan. 12 (AP)—Britain and the United States were reliably reported today to be renewing their pressure for war bases in neutral Eire.

New overtures, combined with a concerted British press campaign for ports and airfields in Eire, both to defend the island and to aid the Allied war in the Atlantic, so far have been mainly informal but official, it was said.

Prime Minister Eamon De Valera of Eire has said he sympathized with the United States in its war, but that it would promote disunity for Eire to become involved.

United States representatives in Dublin, it was said, have been exerting so much pressure on the Eire government in personal contacts that some of their old popularity is waning.

Both the British and United States representatives were said to have insisted that nothing in the way of new proposals have been submitted formally to the Irish, but they make no secret that they look wishfully at such potential bases as Berehaven, Cobh and Lough Swilly, which would help the Allies counter German intensification of the battle of the Atlantic or new moves toward West Africa.

The three bases were used by the British and United States fleets during the World War and were retained by Britain after Eire became a nation until the Eire-British agreement of 1938. They were given to Eire by the Chamberlain government.

At that time they were described by Winston Churchill, then a frequent critic of the government, as "sentinel towers of the western approaches upon which 45,000,000 people in these islands depend for foreign food and daily bread."

The Manchester Guardian asserted that "Mr. De Valera is unmoved so far but when he reflects how much he personally owes to American aid his conscience must be troubled."

Chinese Continue To Gain on Four Separated Fronts

Chungking, Jan. 12 (AP)—A new-found offensive power of Generalissimo Chang Kai-Shek's forces has wrested successes from drives against the Japanese on four widely separated fronts, a communiqué announced today.

On one front, the announcement said, two villages have been captured in a new offensive which apparently endangered the entire position of the Japanese forces along the Lungtung railroad south of the Yellow river.

Chinese attention continued to be centered, however, upon their third great victory at Changsha in Hunan Province, where the communiqué said the Japanese were fleeing northward "in great confusion" after suffering 8,000 more casualties and losing 1,000 prisoners.

The Japanese force of approximately 100,000 which had set out from its bases around Tunking Lake in third determined effort to take and hold the Hunan capital and rice market was "finally engaged" on the line of retreat and completely smashed, the Chinese said.

Chinese estimates placed the losses of this force at no less than 45,000 men.

The Japanese encountered disaster when they were trapped at Fulupin, 35 miles northeast of Changsha, and subjected to a pounding from Chinese artillery such as no Japanese force has faced in four years and a half of war, it was said. This attack raged for 24 hours last Friday, the communiqué said.

Among the prisoners captured, the communiqué added, were officers wearing Chinese civilian clothing.

Workmen's Circle Branch Donates $25 for Defense

The following letter acknowledges a donation by the Kingston Branch of Workmen's Circle of $25 for national defense: Kingston Branch of Workmen's Circle, c/o Samuel Bell, Secretary, 75 Broadway, Kingston, New York.

This will acknowledge the receipt of your letter of December 24, 1941, with which you enclosed $25.00 as a donation to the United States for national defense.

The patriotism evidenced by you is a source of great gratification to your government. Your donation has been assigned Number 1472, and if there is any occasion to refer to it in the future, it would be appreciated if you use this number.

Very truly yours, L. L. COLLIE, Chief, Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants

Farm Machinery To Be Discussed At Area Session

February Meeting Slated, at Which Adjustment Plans Are to Be Fully Given

Plans for a special farm machinery program were made at a meeting last Friday night, called by William T. Hookey of Lake Katrine, chairman of the Ulster County Agriculture Defense Committee. Special funds have been made available by the State Defense Council to the State College of Agriculture, for this program because of the importance of food in our war effort.

Continuing high production will be difficult to maintain in the face of a serious labor shortage and the reduction of available new farm machinery. A comprehensive statewide program has been planned to meet this situation.

The program in Ulster county is under the direction of the County Agricultural Defense Committee, of which Mr. Hookey is chairman and Albert Kurdt, county agricultural agent, is secretary. A special committee was appointed to carry out the details of the program arranged on Friday.

The members of this special committee are: Mr. Hookey, Cyril G. Small, Harry Siemsen, Frederick Heinsch and Albert Kurdt.

The first step in this new farm machinery program will be a big county wide meeting for farmers on February 4. At that time Prof. C. A. Turner of the Rural Engineering Department of the New York State College of Agriculture will be the principal speaker. Prof. Turner will discuss the repair and adjustment of several farm machines, such as tractors, sprayers, grain drills, plows, harrows and mowing machines.

Purposes Listed

There are several purposes for this extensive farm machinery program. First, it is designed to get all farmers to order needed repair parts immediately or as soon as they can determine which parts are needed. The office of production management, realizing the importance of the situation, has agreed to provide all the necessary iron and steel for replacement part orders in the hands of manufacturers. This means getting orders in early because it is estimated that approximately 90 days are required to get the parts into the hands of local dealers. Secondly, to help farmers determine which parts are needed and which repairs are necessary. Thirdly, to help farmers understand which machines can be repaired instead of getting new parts of new machines, and last, to encourage farmers to take proper care of machinery and equipment. This means proper adjustment to save power and wear, with less time lost during the season of use, by breakdowns and delay in getting repair parts.

Clinics Slated

At the meeting on February 4 additional plans in the program will be announced. This will include repair clinics, tractor tune-up meetings, field adjustment demonstrations and other demonstrations. Recent announcements indicate a reduction of about 50 per cent in the amount of new farm machinery to be available this year. The allocation of iron and steel for this purpose is 80% of the 1940 amount used. The year of 1940 was a relatively low production year, with a big increase in the sale of new machinery in 1941. The demand of machines was far exceeded and many, which makes the repair and adjustment program all the more important.

The farm machinery program will also include the cooperative use of larger pieces of equipment and more custom work by such machines as combines, sprayers, large ensilage cutters, lime sowers and tractors. It includes special training for farmers in means of more complete use of farm shops. All farm machinery dealers, agricultural departments of high schools and all farm organizations are cooperating to make the program successful and help farmers meet the war emergency.

Nurse's Aides Course

A program to train nurse's aides for service in the hospitals will be started by the Ulster County Chapter American Red Cross in the near future. All young women who wish to volunteer their services for this line of work, are asked to register their names at the Volunteer Civilian Defense Office, Clinton avenue, this week. Only those who have time and strength to devote three or four hours a day to this work after completing the course should apply.

H. F. Groves, Dead, Former Recorder

Brooklyn Attorney Was Native of Kingston

Harry F. Groves, 60, a former recorder of Kingston, died suddenly of a heart attack Sunday morning in his home, 3711 Faragut road, Brooklyn. Funeral services will be held from the late home in Brooklyn on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in charge of the Rev. Gregory Mabry, a former pastor of the Holy Cross church, this city, and the body will be brought to Kingston and services held in the Holy Cross church on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by the Rev. William A. Grier. Burial will be in the Mountain View cemetery in Saugerties.

Mr. Groves was born in Kingston on January 7, 1882, and was a graduate of old Ulster Academy. Following his graduation he took up the study of law in the office of Auchmoody & Oakes of this city, and then attended the Albany Law School where he graduated in 1903.

He then returned to Kingston after his admittance to the bar in September, 1903, he began the practice of law at the late Surgeon General Walter N. Gill.

Mr. Groves was a Democrat in politics and in 1906 he began a term as recorder, and was re-elected for a second term. Recorder's court in those days was located in the office now occupied by the Board of Health on the first floor of the city hall. Recorder's court handled all of the minor criminal cases in the city, and later during the administration of the late Mayor Palmer Canfield the court was consolidated with the city court.

Shortly after Mr. Groves had completed his second term as recorder he removed to New York, and for a number of years he had been connected with the legal department of the Socony Vacuum Oil Company with offices at 26 Broadway, New York city, where he handled marine insurance work.

Mr. Groves was a son of the late John J. and Elizabeth Forde Groves, and the family resided on Montrose avenue for many years. While in Kingston Mr. Groves was a member of the Holy Cross church on Pine Grove avenue, and served on the altar as master of ceremonies.

Surviving are his wife, who was the former Miss Emily Belch of Saugerties; three sisters, Mrs. Emma Swart, Mrs. Elizabeth Terwilliger and Mrs. Anna J. Becker, all of Kingston; and two brothers, John J. Groves of New York and Robert G. Groves of this city.

Rutherford's Body Still Unburied Because of Wish

San Diego, Calif., Jan. 12 (AP)—Lying on his deathbed, Joseph Franklin Rutherford, 72, world leader of Jehovah's Witnesses, voiced a last wish.

He asked disciples to bury him at dawn of the day after death in a hillside crypt at Beth-Sarim, the estate he built here for the biblical King David's return to earth.

Rutherford's death at the estate last Thursday was kept secret until Saturday.

Rutherford's body was still unburied, his last wish thwarted by a county law forbidding burial on the estate because it is not a legally zoned cemetery.

Followers of the Jehovah's Witnesses' movement obtained a hearing date January 24 to present their burial petition before the county health commission.

Rutherford had been ill here for two months. Dr. George Roy Stevenson, who signed the death certificate, said Rutherford has known for 18 months of the malignant condition that eventually brought his death.

Chief of a movement that spread to 36 countries, Rutherford claimed 2,000,000 followers to whom he prophesied a millennium. Dignified and severe, the former Missouri lawyer made thousands of addresses to gatherings of witnesses and in later years over the radio. He campaigned for William Jennings Bryan in 1896, but sometime later abandoned political affairs to become a follower of Pastor Charles Taze Russell, prophet of an approaching armageddon.

After Russell died in 1916, Rutherford assumed the leadership of an expanded movement. Although Rutherford refused to set any definite year for the arrival of the millennium, his followers kept alive the statement that "millions now living will never die."

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)
No Tire Shortage Here
Winsted, Conn.—Tire rationing isn't going to bother Anthony Bernardo as long as sub-freezing temperatures prevail.
He took four cast-off tires, stuffed them with sawdust, wired them to the rims of his car and, through a slit, soaked them with water. It was 20 below zero at the time and now he has solid tires.
"They're a little bumpy," he said, "but so are the roads."

Couldn't Bring It Home
Philadelphia—An argument over division of the spoils meant a trip to jail on larceny charges for three men who admitted stealing a 10-pound piece of bacon from a wholesale house.
They got away with the bacon but stopped at a nearby corner and argued about who would keep it. Two patrolmen heard the noise and hauled them in.

Firemen, Save My—
Kansas City—Fire destroyed a car belonging to C. W. Cramer of Chicago two miles from Suburban Independence, but firemen weren't entirely too late. They arrived in time to salvage all his nearly new tires.

Fast Talk
Ogden, Utah—A pistol toter confronted Mrs. Edwin Stratford, daughter of Ogden Police Chief Rial C. Moore, as she answered a knock at the door. There followed this Q and A:
"Is your husband home?"
"Yes."
"Has he a gun?"
"Yes, and here he comes."
The gunman fled without waiting to see.

Benevolent Buddy
Milwaukee—When two soldiers emptied their wallets at a railroad station to purchase tickets back to camp, a handsomely dressed man handed them a $50 bill for fare and walked away.
He then went over to a group of Marine recruits waiting for a train and bought them 10 cartons of cigarettes.

To a spectator who complimented him, he explained: "That's the least I can do. You see, I had a son in the last war. He didn't get any medals. They decorated him with machine gun bullets."

To Hold Card Party

Highland, Jan. 10—A card party for the benefit of the Red Cross is to be held on the evening of Wednesday, January 14, will be under the sponsorship of Highland Grange. This was arranged at the meeting of the Grange Tuesday evening. The party will be held in the Grange hall with Mrs. William Dodge as chairman. It was also decided to offer the Grange hall for defense purposes, such as hospitalization in cases of emergency.

New Year's resolutions was the topic of the program, which included a debate on whether it is better to invest one's money in insurance or put it in a bank. Taking part in the debate were Earl Kisor, Albert Schriber, Miss Charlotte Shaw, Mrs. Florence Bell and Philip Bravata. The side favoring insurance won the debate. Mrs. Lucy Craig was appointed chairman for the coming year. The dartball team for the second series of matches was discussed. The first game of the second series will be played at the Highland Grange hall January 15.

Study Club Meets

Highland, Jan. 10—A second program on the works of Gilbert and Sullivan and this time featuring The Mikado, was presented at the meeting of the Music Study Club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Barnaby with Miss Emily Lent assisting hostess. Mrs. Harry Thorne arranged the program but being unable to be present, Mrs. J. W. Blakely as musical director, substituted. Mrs. Franklin Welker read the story of the opera and the divisions of the play: "Here's a How De Do, From Every Kind of Man and My Object All Sublime." The instrumental numbers were played by Mrs. W. Herman Jordan and Mrs. Blakely and the vocal selections: "A Wandering Minstrel, I," "For He is Going to Marry Yum Yum," were sung by Mrs. Jordan, and Miss Rose Symes sang "Flowers That Bloom in the Spring," "Tit Willow," and "I've Got a Little List."

Attending were: Mrs. Blakely, Mrs. Jordan, Miss Symes, Mrs. A. W. Williams, Miss Julia Van Keuren, Mrs. Welker, Mrs. Arthur Poelma, Mrs. Nathan Williams, Mrs. Harry Colyer, Mrs. Jennie Abrams, Miss Edna Curry, Miss Lent and Mrs. Barnaby. The meeting in two weeks will be at the home of Mrs. Blakely with Mrs. Jordan and Miss Symes as hostesses and Miss Curry arranging the third program on Gilbert and Sullivan operas.

Highland, Jan. 10—The Ladies Aid Society voted the sum of $5 from their treasury for Red Cross at their meeting Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Harry Colyer and her committee met with Mrs. A. W. Williams. There were suggestions for the work of the society next year but this was tabled until the election of officers in March. Mrs. George Noeltnor, who was chairman of the October committee and who is leaving, was presented with a gift from the society. Miss Laura Harcourt sent her report of Christmas greetings and cheer cards sent out during December.

The December and January committees decided to serve a portion supper on January 22 in the church hall. Mrs. C. W. Rathgeb and Mrs. Colyer are the chairmen. The resignation of Mrs. Elton Tompkins was received and accepted. Mrs. Tompkins, living in Clintondale, is working in another church. Present for the meeting were: Mrs. Colyer, Mrs. A. W. Williams, Miss Julia Van Keuren, Mrs. Alfred Lane, Mrs. W. J. Upright, Mrs. Martine, Mrs. W. D. Corwin, the president, Mrs. Jennie Abrams, Mrs. Charles Champin, Mrs. Mabel Hasbrouck, Miss Daisy Fredericks, Mrs. Franklin Welker, Mrs. Jesse Alexander, Mrs. Oliver Tillson, Mrs. N. D. Bond, Mrs. Victor Salvatore and Mrs. Roscoe Wood, who reported $21 from the sale of fruit cakes and articles accompanying the cakes.

Village Notes

Highland, Jan. 10—Supervisor Jacob J. Donovan has arranged the place for depositing old license plates. A large box will be put on the porch at the entrance of the room of Lloyd Post American Legion. There will be a slit in the cover for the plates to be slipped in. When the box is full Highway Commissioner Max Gruner will take it to Kingston.

A fire that destroyed 250 chickens also the house, occurred Wednesday noon at the farm of Eugene Nielsen on the Chodikee lake road. Chief Maynard and his men responded and by chopping the ice from a nearby pool obtained water to prevent the flames catching other buildings. It is supposed a defective heater caused the fire. Mrs. Nielsen became hysterical and Dr. Moeller responded and quieted her.

The annual election of officers of Lloyd Rod and Gun Club will take place the evening of January 13 in the packing room of the Erichsen cold storage on the North road. Albert Roberts is the present president.

A Bank Alarm

Roanoke, Va. (AP)—When the gong sounds in a local business house, it's a signal that a trip to the bank is in order. Under instructions to make a deposit at a certain hour each day, the manager uses an alarm clock to make sure he won't forget.

Pertinent Facts On Conscription

Deferred registrants who wish to volunteer for service with the Civilian Defense Force should get in touch with local Defense Councils rather than apply to National and State Defense Headquarters, Brigadier General Ames T. Brown, New York State Director of Selective Service, said today.

"Such a large proportion of deferred registrants have volunteered for defense service that officials of the Civilian Defense Force have requested state headquarters of Selective Service to instruct registrants to call on local Defense Councils and not apply by mail to national or state Defense Headquarters," he said. "Local boards have been instructed to be prepared to inform registrants of the names of chairmen and the addresses of city and county Defense Councils in their areas."

In line with regulations, all deferments are subject to review from time to time and none are guaranteed to be permanent. It is, however, a source of considerable satisfaction to know that deferred registrants, regardless of the length of their deferment, are willing to volunteer for home service during such time as they are not privileged to serve in the United States Army.

"For those who wish to receive military training at home, there is the opportunity presented by the New York Guard. In addition to an opportunity to serve at home, such training will be especially valuable to any man who is afterwards inducted into the United States Army. Enlistment in any New York Guard unit may be accomplished at the nearest state armory," General Brown stated.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Jan. 10—The Mollie Ann Shop is now located on the Bearsville road, next to the home of its proprietor, Mrs. Mollie Smith. It was formerly located in the Nook building. The business as usual will be conducted by Mrs. Smith and her daughter.

A meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held Tuesday, January 12, at the American Legion rooms. The meeting will be addressed by Principal Walter A. Van Wagenen, and Martin F. Comeau. Mr. Comeau will speak on the relation of civilian defense to the P.T.A.

The Art Association has requested that the public submit lists of films desired for future showing. The experiment of showing some of the old films of the silent days was found to be successful and the project will probably be continued. The association is anxious to learn which films would be most popular.

The Rev. Lester L. Haws attended the Oneonta Methodist Ministers' Association meeting in Lexington Tuesday. Mr. Haws, who was ill last week, has fully recovered.
Mathew Chambers, who has been ill, has recovered.

AN AMERICANIZED WORLD

"Until every nation is prosperous, no nation is prosperous," says Henry Ford in an interview. It isn't literally true, but the tendency is that way.

So he wants to extend the American system to Europe, giving every country political and economic freedom and "the same chance our 48 states have," with access to raw materials and ability to choose their own lines of development.

"If Europe adopted the American system," he declares, "no country would cease being a country; no country would have to give up self-government. All that is needed is that, like our states, the countries of Europe begin to pull together. We can help the world to get on its feet again if it settles down."

So we find in this industrial genius the same spirit that he showed in the last war, when he chartered his "peace ship" and went over to persuade the warring nations to lay down their arms and work together.

He found then that none of the warring countries wanted his help, and he came back sad and perplexed, with nothing accomplished. It isn't likely that he will repeat that effort. But his words will carry across the sea and interest people in many countries.

It seems an awfully big job, though, to persuade the nations even after this war to share their resources and give each other a square deal all round. That may be the way of salvation, but nations often seem to prefer destruction—in the name of patriotism.

RECIPE FOR GENERALSHIP

The recent changes in our high command, military and naval, recall our troubles in the Civil War. Then, as we all know Lincoln made change after change before, in Grant, he found a man who could hold his own against Lee.

A possible clue to a successful generalship has just been revealed by the well-known southern editor and historian, George Fort Milton. His "Conflict, the American Civil War," just published, maintains that generally "the outstanding leaders proved to be men who, after early military schooling and subaltern service in the regulars, left the army for civilian activity and did not return until the Civil War broke out." Civilian experience, says Milton, freed these men from the fetters of military discipline, and enabled them "to maintain unimpaired the imagination which a commander in the field must have." Such men were Grant, Sherman, McClellan and Stonewall Jackson. Forrest, one of the most successful guerrilla leaders, had no formal military training at all.

The British have had trouble with the stereotyped military mind, against which H. G. Wells has crusaded with particular vehemence. Let us hope that our West Pointers and Annapolis graduates have escaped the ossifying that a life-time of obedience to higher-ups sometimes brings on.

SIMPLER JOYS

Yes, it's going to be a hardship, economizing on gasoline and limiting the use of our cars. But there are compensations, quite aside from the saving of money to buy more defense bonds.

The automobile, with all its merits, may have been on the whole an enemy of the finer life. It has lured us out of doors to "go places and see things," to the exclusion of domestic life and culture. Gadding about hither and yon may win friends and influence people, but may also leave more or less of a vacuum in the home and the head.

Now as we learn again the ancient art of staying at home and liking it, we may get acquainted with our families—who are often very likeable people, when you once get to know them. And we may even read an occasional book. Or a magazine that has reading matter together with pictures. There are vast, unexplored possibilities along these lines for the long winter evenings.

SOUTHERN DEMOCRACY

Was the Old South ruled by wealthy planters? Readers of "Gone With the Wind" certainly got such an impression, and it was already pretty widespread. All this is wrong, however, says Burton Hendrick. His "Statesmen of the Old South," published not long ago, points out that democracy had reached even that region.

Jefferson Davis was born in a log-cabin, as Lincoln was, and not very far from Lincoln, either. His Secretary of the Treasury, Conrad Memminger, spent his childhood in a South Carolina orphan asylum. Another cabinet officer was a former overseer of slaves, the most despised occupation in all Southern society. Merit, not wealth, position or ancestry, brought them to the posts they filled. So, on the whole, despite our failures in office, has it been with all of our executives, in South as well as North.

AMERICAN POWER

"Give us the tools and we will finish the job," urged Winston Churchill in a notable appeal last year.

"Give us the raw materials and we will do the work," says American industry now, welcoming the biggest manufacturing contract in human history.

The employers are ready and the workers are mobilizing for the big push. Both groups say, in response to the President's appeal for an unprecedented effort, "It can be done and it must be done."

The moral and material power has been here all the time. It only awaited organization and inspiration. Now we are getting them. We begin to realize the full truth of a declaration once made by Wendell Willkie: "It is inconceivable how strong this nation is!" All that is necessary is to organize and direct the strength, and this is being done.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)
GLAND EXTRACTS

A new word has come into the practice of medicine, in fact, a whole new specialty, within the last few years. It is called endocrinology and has to do with the endocrine glands—ductless glands—of the body.

These glands have no ducts or tubes carrying their juices or extracts to the blood or organs, but the blood, in passing through these glands, gathers their extracts.

Thus the thyroid gland in the neck manufactures thyroid extract, which speeds up the body processes. If too much is being manufactured, the thyroid gland, or most of it, is removed by surgery, X-rays, or radium. If the thyroid gland is not manufacturing enough extract, and the patient becomes dull mentally and physically, with accumulation of excess fat, then thyroid extract from animals is used to bring the individual's body processes up to normal.

Similarly with the pituitary gland lying on the floor of skull. Pituitary extract helps in the handling of starch foods, thus preventing excess fat in certain parts of the body.

The adrenal glands lying one above each kidney are also endocrine glands. If not enough adrenal extract is being manufactured, the individual lacks energy and has low blood pressure. By use of adrenal extract—adrenalin—the blood pressure is raised and the individual's energy is increased.

We are all familiar with the life saving effects of insulin in the treatment of diabetes. Diabetics now live safely for many years because insulin from animals makes up for the lack of their own insulin due to the "worn out" condition of the pancreas gland.

And now endocrinologists are finding that when the glands of reproduction—sex glands—are, or are becoming deficient in childhood and early youth, interfering with the process by which boys and girls merge into manhood and womanhood, the use of extract of these glands brings about gratifying results in many cases.

The extract stimulates the reproductive system so that boys lose their feminine characteristics and girls the masculine, and normal development follows.

Fortunately, also, these reproductive gland extracts can be taken by mouth as well as by hypodermic injection. Men and women of middle age are given these extracts to lessen the shock and other symptoms due to the "change of life" that comes at or near middle age.

Menopause—Change of Life

The discovery of the value of ovary extract in helping women over that embarrassing and distressing period, the menopause or change of life, has brought about very favorable results. Send today for Dr. Barton's new booklet entitled "Menopause—Change of Life" (No. 115). To obtain it send ten cents to The Bell Library, Post Office Box 75, Station O, New York, N. Y., mentioning the Kingston Daily Freeman.

GETTING FUNNIER ALL THE TIME

Washington Daybook

By Jack Stinnett

Washington—The war is making many changes in the face of Washington. Temporary and permanent government buildings are going up all over the place. Standing on the White House lawn, Di Maggio could line a fly to the steel pile that is to be the capital's biggest downtown hotel. But none of the face-lifting can compare with that which will grow out of the purchase of 246-year-old Friendship Estate for a $10,000,000 housing development for defense workers.

For at least 140 years, Friendship has been one of the show places of Washington. It was then that it came into the possession of Georgetown college (now university) and on its broad acres was constructed a monastery for student monks.

More than 40 years ago, it was purchased by John R. McLean, the late Washington newspaper publisher and its 75 acres refurbished. For all of that time it has been one of the social and political centers of Washington, for after the death of the senior McLean it became the home of Evelyn Walsh McLean, owner of the fab "Hope diamond."

The autobiography of the colorful daughter of picturesque old

Tom Walsh, gold mining king and one-time senator from Colorado, has made a racy book and much of it filled with the doings at Friendship.

"A mad place, truly!" Mrs. McLean wrote, "with a monkey in my bathroom, a llama on the lawn, and our corridors shrill with the curses of our parrot (learned from a diplomat). In the stables when my children wished to play at being grownups, they found there midget horses and the coach, brightly painted, that had once belonged to General Tom Thumb. The cellar was richly stocked with wines and spirits as if that were the first concern of the owners. The kitchen was a place as artful in cuisine as any hostelry."

It was there in the "fabulous twenties," that President Harding came with his cronies, Senators Fred Hale, Davis Elkins and Joseph Freylinghuysen, to play golf. It was there that John W. Weeks, Harry Dougherty, and Vice-President Curtis came to play poker. The Coolidges also were visitors there. The parade continues even now, for it was there that Senator Robert Reynolds, of North Carolina, married 21-year-old Evelyn, Mrs. McLean's only daughter.

income which actually belongs to him. If a joint return is filed, the aggregate income disclosed is subject to both the normal tax and the surtax. The liability with respect to the tax on a joint return may not be made if either husband or wife is a nonresident alien.

If a joint return is not made by an agent of the taxpayers, it must be signed by both husband and wife and sworn to before a proper officer by the spouse preparing the return.

Where separate returns are filed by husband and wife on Form 1040, the joint personal exemption of $1,500 may be taken by either or divided between them in any proportion as agreed upon, but if either or both spouse make a return on Form 1040A, each spouse is treated as a single person and entitled to a personal exemption of $750 only.

Husband and wife may elect each year to file a joint return or separate returns. Where, however, joint or separate returns have been filed for a particular year, neither husband nor wife may, after the due date of return, file an amended return or returns on the other basis for that year.

Politics of Labor and Farm Blocs and Selfish Groups Interfering With Development of War Program

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 12.—When the statement is made that politics is interfering with effective development of the war program, it does not mean party politics but the politics of labor and farm blocs and selfish groups who have grown powerful enough to carry on an insidious warfare inside and outside the government.

Thus because OPM didn't succumb to the demands of the C. I. O. last week to permit labor chiefs to take over the management of the auto industry, the spokesmen ever since he refused to allow the big automobile industry to be sabotaged by a group of irresponsible experimenters.

As a matter of fact despite the numerous handicaps that befall any agency of the government in dealing with restrictions on civilian production in war time, the OPM has gotten a new impetus since Pearl Harbor. Sidney Hillman has often been criticized in these dispatches because he retains a big union salary while the government's employees, Mr. Hillman and Mr. Knudsen make an excellent team in the OPM and they are beginning to get results. Because Mr. Hillman doesn't want to see the auto industry demoralized by any weakening of management responsibility he is sniped at, too, by the C. I. O.

Maybe President Roosevelt is too preoccupied to see that inside his own administration the class-conscious New Dealers and allies of the C. I. O. who sit in government offices inspire most of the sniping that goes on against his own appointees. All around the government there is an apparent effort on the part of these radicals to use the war to exploit themselves and their class viewpoints. They often claim privately that they have the President's support.

The fact is the New Deal politicians have had their own way for eight years. They have managed to oust almost everybody who disagreed with them. What is difficult for the New Deal schemers today to realize is that this is war and not another WPA.

Unfortunately the President on more than one occasion has done things which have encouraged his New Deal lieutenants to believe that he is with them in the reform-as-usual campaign. Thus the President has not stopped for a moment sending New Deal nominations to the Senate for all appointments in the Federal judiciary. It is discouraging to fair-minded citizens to hear the President talk about national unity and see him picking for the Federal bench all New Dealers and people only from his own party. Mr. Roosevelt is the first president of the United States to violate the two-party tradition in handling judicial nominations.

Nobody expects the president to name an equal number of Republicans as Democrats. But Republican presidents rarely exceeded a percentage of 60 for their own party. Mr. Roosevelt has gone over to the idea of 100 per cent Democratic appointments. It wouldn't be so bad if he occasionally picked some one who was judicial-minded but he picks judges from lame duck congressmen or from New Dealers whose class conscious viewpoints or intemperate attacks on opponents are a matter of conspicuous record.

The President needs the wholehearted support of the country and especially of the business world. But he cannot inspire confidence when he keeps on supporting the enemies of business, the shambles of the whole industrial system if they had been permitted to do so by an acquiescent public opinion.

Party politics is supposed to be asured. But if it means a one-party system and a totalitarian approach in politics, then the sooner party politics is reconverted and the people get to know the truth in time for the November 1942 elections, the better will be the nation's morale in its fight to preserve democracy. American industry's management is counted on to fulfill the president's big private program but it cannot attain great efficiency when it is being sniped at by petty officials in Washington who keep on sending out a barrage of attacks against business and industry. Mr. Roosevelt is taking a big chance with the industrial program—he is neglecting the most important factor, industrial morale. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

Msgr. Drury Is Speaker At C.D. of A.

Immediately after the opening of the meeting of Court Santa Maria, No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America, held Thursday evening, January 8, at the K. of C. Hall, Grand Regent Mrs. Kathryn Liscom introduced the Very Rev. Msgr. Drury, pastor of St. Mary's Church who addressed the court on the "Sacrament of Holy Orders."

Msgr. Drury treated his subject step by step from the time the young man enters college until the reception of each of the four minor orders, namely, Tonsure, Porter, Lector and Exorcist and the Major Orders of Acolyte, subdeacon and deaconate. He explained each ritual in detail and finally the ordination of the priest, the court is grateful and appreciative of the honor Msgr. Drury has shown it.

At the meeting which followed arrangements were started for a banquet which will mark the 30th anniversary of the institution of Court Santa Maria in Kingston. It will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday evening, February 10. Further arrangements and names of committees will be announced later.

The Christmas Cheer Committee reported five baskets sent at Christmas time to needy families and $5 was donated to the Mayor's Christmas fund. The court is to prepare a box of cheer for the soldiers in Iceland. Mrs. V. A. Gorman and Mrs. Julia Kane are in charge of this work.

Ten dollars was voted to be sent to the Red Cross fund. The court unanimously voted to purchase defense bonds totaling $6,000.

Following Easter and the realization that the nation was at war in 1917, the literary clubs resumed their usual schedules continuing their studies much the same as the clubs are today. The Monday Club met at the home of Mrs. A. V. V. Kenyon. The paper on "Modern Sculptors," was read by Mrs. Osterhout and was followed by a description of "Industrial Art" under the Current Events group led by Mrs. Charles Preston.

The 20th Century Club at one of its April meetings studied Alaska with a sketch on "Natives of Alaska" by Mrs. J. T. Johnson, and a paper for the day on "Alaskan Glaciers." The meeting at the home of Mrs. John Ryder closed with a reading from Rex Beach's "The Silver Horde." The topic for the next year was chosen to be South America, an interesting coincidence for that is the very topic with which the club has been working this year.

In recording the meeting of Coterie at the home of Mrs. Brown it was noted that the members voted to assist in the Red Cross work. Their topic was Quebec and the papers were given by Miss Isabel Thompson and Mrs. Flemming. Atharhacton selected "Present Day Novels" for consideration during the coming club year.

At the Lowell Club meeting officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Arthur Cole, president; Mrs. Rose K. Witter, vice president; Mrs. Wesley Hale, secretary; Mrs. Thornberry, corresponding secretary; Mrs. T. D. Lewis, treasurer; and Mrs. Everett, librarian.

April also marks the annual conference of Methodist clergy held that year in New York city. Upon the return of the Rev. George M. Cranston, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, he was escorted from the station to the home of E. B. Schepmoor, an Evangelist street for a surprise party. His hosts were the members of his class known as the Winners Class.

A side note in the advertising columns was the expected increase in the price of cars. Maxwells were selling for $635 but after the first of May the price would be $665. These cars were exceptionally economical for their running expense was only $8.19 per month with records of from 30 to 40 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Easter Dances and Parties

Miss Helen Westbrook was lauded for the success of the Easter Monday dance held at St. Mary's Hall. Maiseholder's orchestra provided music for dancing and the hall was gay with streamers in the national colors. Many out of town guests were present among whom was Poulney Bigelow.

Another of the subscription dances for the high school students was held at Wiltwyck Inn with the orchestra under the direction of Professor George Mulder. Chaperones were Mrs. E. W. Sweeney and Mrs. S. D. Gibson. Those attending were the Misses Anna Roach, Ruth Bushnell, Miriam Pitts, Margaret Angle, Ruth Perwilliger, Susan Cockburn, Jane Hogboom, Olga Owens, Helen Miller, Ruth Fuller, Faith Sanford, Ruth Smith and Mildred Hamilton's Daughter Betrothed.

Women's Club to Meet

The Democratic Women's Club of Kingston, will hold a meeting in Room 120, at the Governor Clinton Hotel this evening, at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to be present as matters of importance are to be considered.

Dinner Date Selected

At a recent meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the First Reformed Church, October 21, 1942, was selected as the date for their annual turkey dinner.

Burning of Christmas Trees

The first community celebration of the Twelfth Night customs was held Saturday evening at the Pan-Am Field on Albany avenue extension. Through cooperation with the young people of the city's churches the Department of Public Works had taken all of the collected Christmas trees to the field for the huge bonfire ceremony which is shown above.

Mayor William F. Edelmuth addressed the crowd stressing in his theme the need for unity even in Kingston to fight the enemies of the country and the evil forces in the world. He said that people should be proud of our democracy which has gone to the assistance of the liberty loving people.

"There can be no turning back, there can be no half-hearted effort, if we are to travel the road to victory," said Mayor Edelmuth as he showed the necessity of united effort on the part of all whether they be in the front battle lines or thousands of miles away working at home. The foes do not abide by laws but are treacherous and use any tricks to gain their ends. He urged all to be on guard and not to shrink.

In closing Mayor Edelmuth said, "It is my hope and I know it is the hope of all of you that before another twelfth night celebration comes, that ultimate victory for which we pray and fight, shall be achieved."

Community singing of all the favorite carols was led by Superintendent of Schools, Arthur J. Laidlaw. The Rev. H. Victor Kane gave a few introductory remarks and the significance of the celebration of twelfth night was presented in a short sketch by Roy Crosswell and Harry Mickel of St. James Methodist Church.

Forrest and Roger Martin, Owen Cassidy, Harry Connelly, Fred Snyder, Bob Adams, Severn Bruyn, Reginald Case, Albert Deyo, Simon Snyder, William Davis Hawk, Liowyn Longyear, Tracy Elmendorf, Mr. Leiden, Amasa Smith, Thomas Roach and Thomas Peppard.

Several of the girls held a reunion of old K. A. at the home of Miss Ruth Smith during the Easter vacation. Those attending were the Misses Mae Everett, Helen Britt, Ruth Glendenning, Lena Dick, Eileen Keefe, Louise Snyder, Ethel Pultz, Helen and Evelyn Thomas, Margaret H. Keefe and Eva Palen.

Weddings were contemplated and the bride-elects were not to be slighted. The Chrystianthean Club met at the home of Miss Frieda Sudheimer on Hone street where they entertained at a bridal shower for Miss Mabel Raichle in honor of her approaching marriage to Clarence S. Rowland.

Curtail Social Functions

Friday, April 13, found a release from the White House in which Mrs. Woodrow Wilson urged the women of America to curtail their social activities and devote more of their time to war work. Social leaders in both New York and Chicago urged reduction of all activities to the greatest possible extent especially of costly amusements.

At the April 10th Red Cross rally meeting, Mrs. C. N. Reed outlined two points for the workers. First duty to be learned in the Red Cross as well as the army was obedience particularly at that time in making the surgical dressings, and hospital garments. Each auxiliary unit should furnish the greatest number of supplies and should not just try to out do some other auxiliary.

The room at the D.A.R. Chapter House was being used and a meeting of the downtown women at the Rondout Presbyterian Church was attended by more than 100. Supervisors were Mrs. Conrad E. Hasbrouck and Miss Jessie Oughette, who stressed the point that dressings must be made exactly as specified. So enthusiastic were the workers that additional material had to be ordered.

Mrs. C. E. Hasbrouck and Mrs. Henry Shultz were appointed to be a purchasing committee to have charge of the supplies. The women of the Church of the Comforter suggested that their church could be used for the work in their section of town.

EXCHANGE PLATE MANEUVER IS REALLY VERY SIMPLE

The maneuver of the exchange plate by the waitress for the host who is carving, is a perfectly simple thing to do, but I acknowledge that I have been trying for the last fifteen minutes to smooth out the awkwardness of its description. However, I hope this is clear.

To begin, let us say that service plates (cold ones) are in front of eight people at table. (It may be that the roast which the host is about to carve, is the first course or that the soup plates have been removed leaving the untouched service plates, as they were, beneath.) In any case, there are cold plates at all the places. The waitress has put the plate in front of the host, and then removed the cold plate in front of him and put a hot plate in its place.

While he carves and fills this (hot) plate, she puts the discarded cold plate on the side table and takes a hot one in her right hand. She then stands beside the host waiting until he has finished filling the plate in front of him. She then picks this up with her left hand and with her right hand puts the fresh hot plate in front of him. She carries the filled plate to wherever the host has told her it is for, exchanging the service plate in front of this person for the filled plate. She then stops at the side table, leaves the service plate, picks up another hot plate, and again exchanging it for the plate the host has filled. This procedure is repeated until everyone has been served.

A much simpler service is not to use service plates (or place plates which mean the same thing), but to leave the places bare, and to put the whole stack of eight in front of the host, the maid merely taking each one after it is filled to wherever she is told. (If there is no maid then this is the only way to do, and the plates as they are filled are handed up the table.)

In Early Twenties and Not Married

Dear Mrs. Post: I am in the early twenties and not married and would like to know whether it is proper for me to send out formal invitations to a dinner that my family is allowing me to give at my club for my younger friends? We are in accord about everything but the invitations.

Answer: Yes, quite all right if they are handwritten. I can't suppose that you are thinking of ordering engraved ones? If you are, they would be much too formal for an unmarried girl under the age of thirty.

This wholesome and attractive Carrot Ring with Peas is described in "250 Ways to Serve Fresh Vegetables," latest release in our series of beautiful Cookbooklets

NEW WAYS TO SERVE VEGETABLES
TOLD IN LATEST COOKBOOKLET

If you've been limited in your variety of vegetable dishes and the family's enthusiasm has waned, the Vegetable Book will be a happy discovery. You'll be amazed at their renewed interest in old favorites when you present them with new flavor lifts.

Eleventh in the Kingston Daily Freeman's series of 20 Cookbooklets, The Vegetable Book opens new possibilities for preparing all the fresh vegetables you want to include in your daily menus.

The modern woman knows that the generous use of fresh vegetables provides her family with impressive amounts of Vitamins A, B, C, E, and G as well as valuable mineral salts. To serve them attractively and in interesting variety will assure a hearty welcome at meals.

Carrots and peas are a familiar combination, but have you ever tried serving these healthful vegetables this way—a golden, brown carrot ring with fresh green peas heaped in the center? The simple recipe for this beautiful dish is in the Vegetable Book. For a one-dish luncheon try a casserole of creamed eggs and peas or green beans. Something new in a savory treat is Baked Stuffed Onions. . . these are but a few of the 250 special vegetable recipes in this booklet to help you brighten your menus.

There are suggestions for puddings, souffles, casseroles, fritters, ring molds, and sauces; baked, stuffed, fried, sauteed, broiled, and steamed vegetables for main dishes, entrees, side dishes and garnishes.

The practical sections of vitamin and mineral charts—information on how to buy, care for and prepare different kinds of vegetables to retain the most food value and to get the most for your money, are additional features.

The first eleven booklets are ready for you now in the Kingston Daily Freeman's presentation of 20 Cookbooklets being released one each week. Those available are: 1—500 Snacks; 2—500 Delicious Dishes from Leftovers; 3—250 Classic Cake Recipes; 4—250 Ways to Prepare Poultry and Game Birds; 5—250 Superb Pies and Pastries; 6—250 Delicious Soups; 7—500 Delicious Salads; 8—250 Ways to Prepare Meat; 9—250 Fish and Sea Food Recipes; 10—300 Egg Recipes; 11—250 Ways to Serve Fresh Vegetables.

Each beautiful simulated leather binder, especially constructed to hold all 20 booklets is also available to our readers. It may be obtained wherever you claim your Cookbooklets.

Each booklet is available for only 13c with one coupon from page 2 of the Kingston Daily Freeman at any outlet mentioned therein. To order by mail, send one coupon and 16c for each booklet (13c for book; 3c for postage) to Cookbooklet Dept., Kingston Daily Freeman, Freeman Square, Kingston, N. Y.

Patronize Home Merchants
That is fairness and justice to the home city, every citizen should patronize the home merchants.

Some salespeople should cultivate a more courteous and friendly manner toward customers. It helps to sell merchandise and helps the salespeople to keep their jobs.

People expect courteous treatment. If they don't get it, they trade where they do get it or buy from mail order houses.

For some years the newspapers of the smaller towns and cities have been fighting the mail order houses and, in most instances, fighting them without assistance.

If the merchants really wish to keep home business in the home city, they should co-operate with local newspapers.

The best way to do it is to advertise their goods in the home papers.

IT IS BETTER TO READ THE ADVERTISING COLUMNS OF YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER AND BUY AT HOME.

Magistrate—You say the officer arrested you while you were quietly minding your own business?

Prisoner—Yes, your worship?

Magistrate—You were quietly attending to your own business, making no noise or disturbance of any kind?

Prisoner—None whatever, sir.

Magistrate—It seems very strange. What is your business?

Prisoner—I'm a burglar.

At the fair one old Negro had taken a great fancy to the merry-go-round. Round and round he went, never seeming to tire, until all his money was gone. Then only did he dismount and rejoin his wife, who had been watching him with impatient eyes.

"Well Ebenezer," she said, "you sure have spent your money and had a good ride. But where you been, Ebenezer, where you been?"

An amateur gardener is either successful or has a neighbor who keeps chickens or dogs.

Mr. Heinsheimer—Ah, yes, my wife is versed in the culinary art. Mr. Stein—Ach, nein! Mine is py far de verst!

Money isn't everything...it's good to have money and all the things that money can buy, but it's good, too, to check up once in a while to make sure you haven't lost the things that money can't buy.

NO TIME FOR LOVE

By WATKINS E. WRIGHT

Chapter Ten Off For Romance

LAVINIA closed her suitcase with a bang, and locked it. "All right," she said, "I'm all set." She walked over to her aunt, put her arm around her. "Darling," she said, "if it's going to make you happy for me to have a fling at frivolous living, I'll try. I hope I make your hair stand on end—but I doubt it."

"You'll get by," said Aunt Dorcas.

"Just about," said Lavinia. "And that will be all."

"All you've got to do is forget Armistead's Department Store," Miss Dorcas said. "Forget that, and the fact that you are a fairly successful young woman from Manhattan—and lend an attentive ear to whatever young men say to you."

"Suppose there are no young men?"

"Of course there'll be. Harbor Head is full of them."

"I mean suppose there are no young men for me?"

"You're an attractive young woman, and the men will be quick to see—and get busy."

"Which will be just ducky," said Lavinia, with a touch of sarcasm.

Miss Dorcas gave her a sharp look. "And don't talk like that to the men," she warned. "If there's anything men dislike—it's a woman who talks like that."

"It's sarcasm, and what you modern young people call wise cracks."

"Goodness!" said Lavinia, trying to speak gayly. "You sound like advice to the lovelorn. Don't tell me you are speaking from actual experience!"

"Maybe."

"Tell me about it, Aunt Dorcas."

"There isn't time. But please remember, Lavinia, that I wasn't born in a jungle or a buried city."

"I've always suspected you of having had a romance back in the old home town. Am I right?"

"All girls—even a girl as plain as I was—get attention," said Miss Dorcas.

Presently the buzzer rang. Miss Dorcas went to the speaking tube.

"Yes?" she said.

"It's the taxi you ordered, ma'am. Said a masculine voice."

"Then come on!" said Aunt Dorcas, picking up her suitcase.

Lavinia picked up hers—but she hesitated. She stood in the center of the room, looking about at all her little possessions. She had a sad sort of feeling that nothing was ever going to be the same again. It made her feel like crying—made her wish she could drop her suitcase, make a flying leap for the bed—and there bury her face among the pillows.

And then the taxicab was moving off—downtown. The first lap of Lavinia's journey had begun. Grand Central Station. A streamlined train. Speeding northward. To Maine. To Harbor Head. To a gay hotel. And then what?

Now they were turning into East Forty-second street. Now they were getting out of the taxicab. Aunt Dorcas was paying the fare, and tipping far too generously. A red cap came out. He picked up the two suitcases.

"What train, lady?"

"The Boston Express," said Aunt Dorcas.

"Yes'm. Right this way, lady," Aunt Dorcas hurried after the man. Lavinia fell into step with her.

Aunt Dorcas looked at her.

"Stick up your chin," she said. "You look like somebody on the way to the guillotine."

"Then I look exactly like I feel," said Lavinia.

"Then I look exactly like I feel," said Lavinia.

And a sudden wave of homesickness for the quiet little spot in Connecticut swept over her. . .

A Little Frightened

THREE days later Lavinia Prentiss was standing on a high rock upon the rugged coast of Maine. She was alone, and had never before in all her life felt so alone. Aunt Dorcas had stayed over night, had seen that she was comfortably settled in a room at the Cliffside Inn, had gotten her properly introduced to the hostess, had sampled the meals—and then departed.

"Here I go for the musty Plunketts!" she said ruefully. "Be a gay girl, my dear, and see what you can do to make hearts while I see what I can do to a dead whale's innards!"

"Oh, Aunt Dorcas," Lavinia wailed, "I do wish you'd stay here with me!"

"Nonsense! You're on your own now, Lavinia. Remember, your mother was a heart-breaker, even if your father was rather a wall."

Try being your mother's child for a while. You've been your father's quite long enough."

"Yes'm," Lavinia promised, very meekly.

Then Aunt Dorcas's Portland train coming along—taking her away.

And now—the rugged coast of Maine—and Lavinia, lonely, miserable, gazing out to sea. "I feel," she told herself, "like I imagine Napoleon must have felt when he was left upon the Isle of St. Helena."

Claude Decker next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. William B. Landrine is in charge of the program and devotions. The topic will be "Foreign Mission and the Bible verse, 'Courage'."

Mr. and Mrs. William Galbraith of Richmond Hill, L. I., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Galbraith, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wager left recently to spend the winter with their daughter in California.

Mrs. Macey Van Wagenen entertained at her home recently some of the former members of her Sunday School class, who were home from college for the holidays.

Norwegian Court Held

For the first time a Norwegian Court of Justice sat recently in Glasgow, Scotland. Not one word of English was spoken. Two Norwegian seamen accused of failing to join a ship were tried. The jury of two sat on the bench beside the youthful-looking black-gowned judge, who gave his decision in Norwegian. The High Court of Scotland courtroom was used and the proceedings were held under the Allied Powers Maritime Courts Act of 1941.

Red Cross War Fund

A substantial contribution toward the $45,000 American Red Cross War Fund will be raised by the Ulster County Committee will help keep the fighting men healthy, happy and efficient.

Then, seeing some bathers upon the stretch of sand down at the foot of the rocks, she decided upon a swim. At least it would give her something to do. Perhaps the icy water would shock her out of her feeling of depression.

She walked slowly back to the Inn, conscious of people glancing at her as she crossed the wide veranda. She knew that they looked at her as she crossed the lobby.

"I'm just another new girl come to the Inn," she thought, "and they're all curious." She got into the elevator, still thinking. The people who eyed her didn't know, of course, that she was a dud socially. But they'd soon find out, when they played bridge with her, or when they asked her to dance.

Oh, well, after the first bout with her bridge-playing and the first skirmish with her dancing, they would leave her alone. Then she could sneak out the book about advertising out of her suitcase, find a secluded spot on a tall rock, and do as she pleased.

"Remember," Aunt Dorcas had said, "you're to put thoughts of business completely out of your head."

"Yes'm."

"You're to act like an attractive girl on a vacation—not like a student cramming for exams."

"Yes'm."

Well, here she was at her room. Now for the swim. She got out the brief swimming suit, and the ray beach robe. Then, taking a deep breath, she prepared herself for the trip to the strip of sand, where she had seen so many good-looking men and lovely girls stretched out taking the sun.

"Thank goodness I can swim," she said later, as she left the Inn by way of the entrance reserved for bathers. "I can always give into the water, if I'm cornered. Goose pimples are better than being made to feel like a social flop."

On The Beach

REACHING the beach she tested the water with her toe, and decided to wait a while. The sun felt wonderful to her back. It was better to enjoy that, than to torture herself by plunging into water which felt like the inside of the refrigerator in the apartment back in New York.

She found a spot a little way from a group of young people, and sank down upon her beach robe, leaving her legs and body exposed to the sun. She began to feel relaxed—and began to doze. Now and then hearing scraps of conversation that came from the group of young people she had passed.

"I wanted to go to a livelier spot than this," a girl said. "But now I'm glad I didn't."

"Why?" asked another girl.

"Didn't you hear? Was so close to Canada, they said the most fascinating-looking prisoners are escaping right over the border—only a little way from Harbor Head."

"Not really?"

"Yes—really."

"So what?" said a masculine voice. "You don't mean there's anything to get excited about—prisoners from internment camps escaping?"

"Of course it's something to get excited about. I heard that some of the men in the camps are simply devastating."

"And you'd flirt with them immediately, I suppose?"

"Naturally!"

"You wouldn't report them—and see that they were sent back to Canada?"

"Well, maybe—only—"

"A consistent girl you are—knitting for the British, and flirting with their enemies."

"Consistency," said a second masculine voice, "is not one of a woman's strongest points, my dear lad."

"Oh, come on," someone cried, "let's have a dip. The water's probably warmed up some."

Lavinia sighed. Such gay young things. They made her feel a million years old. Girls, able to get excited over escaped prisoners, willing even to flirt with them. And young men who tried to think seriously about such things, and—

"You'd better not take too much sun all at once," someone said at her side.

Startled, Lavinia looked up. Margaret Linden, the Inn hostess, was smiling down at her.

"Oh, thank you," Lavinia said. "I felt so relaxed, I hardly noticed the sun at all."

"That's the way it works," Margaret said. "You feel relaxed, and the sun gets in his dirty work."

She sank down upon the sand. "I'm so sorry your aunt couldn't stay. She's adorable. I have heard of her, you know."

"Yes," said Lavinia, "lots of people have." She laughed. "But Aunt Dorcas says she's through doing the things that made people hear about her."

"Do you have ambitions to be like her?"

"I did have."

"Meaning you've changed?"

"No," said Lavinia, "meaning Aunt Dorcas has changed."

People of Church Shocked to Learn Of Woman's Past

Newark, N. J., Jan. 12 (AP)—The people of the parish of St. Roseville Methodist Church were astounded today at the arrest of their most ardent church worker as a confidence woman.

The charge against Mrs. Amelia Carr, gentle-voiced, bespectacled wife of the chairman of the church trustees, was defrauding another church woman of $4,700. Essex County Prosecutor William A. Wachenfeld said a check of fingerprints by the F.B.I. unveiled a career of crime starting in 1891 during which Mrs. Carr, now 66, had swindled numerous victims of more than $1,000,000.

The husband, J. Clarence Carr, 70, was heartbroken. He couldn't believe it. "She has been a queen to me. I know nothing about any unfortunate affairs of her past," he said. "I know only goodness about her. She was noble, good and loyal. I can't help but feel this is all a terrible mistake."

The church pastor, the Rev. Edson R. Leach, could only say: "It simply amazes me, because for the past five years I have watched her doing charitable work and acting the role of a good churchwoman."

The police were likewise aghast when the charges were first brought last month, for no one stood higher in the church community than did Mrs. Carr.

But when they let her sit with two police matrons who acted the role of prisoners they were more surprised because, Prosecutor Wachenfeld related, she quickly learned the two officers and burst forth with the words, strange indeed from a churchwoman:

"Do you think I'd be dumb enough to blow my top off to them?"

Bail went up to $50,000, highest ever set for a woman in the county. Wachenfeld said the F. B. I. dossier disclosed she had used eight aliases, was still sought by police of 15 states, had been discharged from Washington State Prison in 1936, only three months before she married Carr in New York, was first arrested in 1891, and arrested again 19 times, and served prison terms in New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Walla Walla and Spokane, Wash.

Information concerning the lectures can be obtained from Mr. Carhart or any squadron member.

Ruth 'Doing Nicely'

New York, Jan. 12 (AP)—Babe Ruth spent the week-end in the hospital although earlier plans were to release the former Yankee home run hitter last Friday. His wife, however, says the Babe is "getting along nicely." He was taken to the hospital January 2 for treatment of a nervous condition resulting largely from an auto accident in which he escaped injury.

Forsts Turn Back Harlem Aces, 40-23

Thomas and Kaplan Pace Winners in Scoring

After having its 27-game winning streak broken last week, a revamped Forsts five regained the win column Saturday at the municipal auditorium by trouncing the Harlem Aces, 40 to 23.

Al Thomas, veteran of the Forsts' outfit, led the scoring with 16 markers while newcomer Stan Kaplan netted 10 points. Hattie Lee and D. Lindsay totaled 17 of the losers' 23.

The winners took a 29 to 9 lead in the first half and continued to score at will during the final two sessions.

The boxscore:

Ben Hogan Chosen As Best Golfer by P.G.A. Association

Los Angeles, Jan. 12 (AP)—Benny Hogan was America's best professional golfer in 1941 according to the average strokes per round statistics. He was also the country's money winner.

Hogan, according to figures released by the Professional Golfers Association of America today, had an average of 70.28 shots per round in tournament play. It represented 101 rounds.

In order behind the little Hershey, Pa., Texas-born pro were Sam Snead, 86 rounds, 70.70; Byron Nelson, 82 rounds, 70.92; Jimmy Demaret, 50 rounds, 71.22; Henry Picard, 35 rounds, 71.22; National Open King Craig Wood, 79 rounds, 71.26; Clayton Heafner, 85 rounds, 71.58, to list the leaders.

Albany's 'Y' Scores Second Straight Win Over Local Cagers by 51-37 Saturday

Ellenwood Captures Eastern Speed Skating Championship

Third Straight Triumph in States Event for Young Ace; Laundry Wins for Women

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 12 (AP)—Ted Ellenwood and Carmelita Laundry had things pretty much their own way in the 11th annual eastern states speed skating championships, week-end feature at Saratoga Springs.

The 22-year-old Fort Johnson stock clerk copped his third consecutive men's crown with ease. Two clockers caught him at 18.2 seconds, the world record, in the 220, but his time was officially set at 18.4 by the majority. He sprinted to facile victories also in the 880, half-mile and mile.

The Fitchburg, Mass., girl who added women's championship to her national and North American titles distanced the field to win the 440 in 43.8 after snaring the 220 and half-mile.

Ellenwood led Fred Janci, Norwalk, Conn., and Joseph Bree, New York, in the 220 yesterday, and Herman Van Patten, New York, and Joseph Janci, Norwalk, in the 880.

Miss Landry's first in the 440 gave her 90 points to 40 for second-place Virginia Jahn, Cresskill, N. J., 30 for third-finisher Helen Carlesco, New York, and 20 for Dorothy Kirkpatrick, Saratoga Springs.

Meanwhile, at Lake Placid, John Dewey, Saranac Lake, piloted his crew to victory in an intra-club four-man bobsledding event on breaking Mt. Van Hoevenberg run, breaking Jim Bickford's week-old 38.71-second mark for the half-mile with a third-sprint 38.39.

The event substituted for the Commissioner Osborne trophy race, postponed to January 25 because of lack of snow to pack the run to the mile stage.

At East White Plains, Torgor Tokle of the Norway Ski Club shattered the 137-foot 1940 jump record of his brother, Kyrr, with leaps of 138 and 140 feet on the Silver Lake slide. He scored 229.6 points to win the Class A title from Arthur Devlin, Lake Placid, with 227.9.

Police Order All Alleys in Chicago To Close at 1 A. M.

Chicago, Jan. 12 (AP)—Bowling in hundreds of Chicago's 2,500 alleys was stopped at 1 a. m. today by police, acting on orders of Police Commissioner James P. Allman, who announced a decision to enforce an old ordinance closing the alleys at that hour.

In many of the city's alleys where the biggest business normally is from midnight to 3 a. m., thousands of customers were surprised to learn of the closing order.

Leaders of bowling organizations said that the ban on early morning bowling came as a surprise. Many alleys had been operating 24 hours a day while hundreds of others remained open from 7 to 7 a. m.

Commissioner Allman, asked why the old ordinance was being enforced, said that he had learned that it was being violated. Officials of the bowling proprietors' association of greater Chicago said they would protest to Mayor Edward J. Kelly on behalf of the thousands of night workers who bowl in the early morning hours.

The association represents 115 bowling establishments. Bowling officials estimated there were 500,000 keggers in the city. The game has increased in popularity in recent years and several large new alleys have been opened in the past few months.

McCarthy Believes Yankees Will Be Tough Team Again

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 12 (AP)—Marse Joe McCarthy is confident that despite war conditions his World Champion New York Yankees "are going to be tough again."

The 54-year-old Yankee manager expects to open the 1942 campaign with virtually the same team that won last year's World Series, providing Uncle Sam doesn't call too many of his players to the armed services.

Further, McCarthy is prepared to take the war and its possible inroads on his playing talent in stride.

"After all," he commented, "the other Major League clubs are in the same boat."

Red Cross War Fund A substantial contribution toward the $45,000 American Red Cross War Fund to be raised by the Ulster County Committee will help keep the fighting men healthy, happy and efficient.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 12 (Wide World)—A lot of silly things have been said about the war and sports (and this may be one of them) but we can't see the necessity of cancelling the golf championships.

We can't think of anything that would have much less effect on the war effort than a women's golf tournament—unless it's the court tennis championships that already have been called off.

As long as the golfers are going to have competition, why not let them have a national title to aim at, even though it wouldn't mean as much as usual?

Court tennis (the rich man's game) made its contribution Saturday when Pierre Etchebaster, the world pro champ, licked a pair of amateur aces.

The N. Y. Racquet and Tennis Club led by the bars, admitting members of the Links, Brook, Knickerbocker, Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Columbia clubs (at $5.50 per) and collected more than $400 for the Red Cross.

Today's Guest Star Jack House, Birmingham News: "Tony Galento's offering to fight Joe Louis for nothing isn't charity. It's all it's worth."

Monday Matinee

Freddie Fitzsimmons, whose new bowling emporium opened the other night, is the 26th major leaguer (past and present) on the list of alley owners.

No doubt their places all feature strikes. Billy McCarney will handle Eddie Lander, the Chicago lightweight, when he fights in the east.

Reports from Chicago say the Cubs have been inquiring about training facilities in San Antonio, Tex., and the White Sox have been shopping around Florida, although both clubs still say they're going back to California.

The freshman basketball team at Auburn is coached by the college athletics publicity director, which poses a nice problem in ethics for Elmer G. Salter.

When the story that Santa Anita's race meeting had been canceled came over the wires, the Salem (Mass.) Evening News headlined it: "There's no Santa—Anita."

Sportouri

Back from a coast-to-coast recruiting tour, Gene Tunney reports he still is looking for physical instructors for the navy but isn't signing up any more boxers.

Applicants now are required to hold degrees in physical education from approved colleges.

Guinard, Joe Louis' secretary and closest companion, has been talking about entering the army when Joe does, but since he is the sole support of his mother he probably will stay at home and manage Joe's real estate.

Dippy Evans, the Notre Dame fullback, drove all the way from South Bend, Ind., to Philadelphia to take a job during the Christmas holidays.

Only casualty at a ski meet at Butte, Mont., last week was Ole Kolstad, who had his fingers frostbitten while he was manipulating a pencil as a judge.

Cooper to Protect Slim Lead in West Coast Golf Today

Los Angeles, Jan. 12 (AP)—It was Harry Cooper against the field today in the final round of the $10,000 Los Angeles Open and the last crack at the biggest purse on California's winter tournament trail.

The hurry-up veteran of 39 went into the finale with a two stroke lead over his brother pros, who were inclined to believe that he wouldn't have it when the curtain came down tonight.

Billed out of Minneapolis, Cooper had rounds of 69-71-70-210 for the par 72 Hillcrest Country Club's tree-lined, well-trapped course. He bolstered his position yesterday after starting out on even terms with the tournament favorite, Benny Hogan, America's top money winning pro and low scorer in 1941.

Hogan shot a creditable 72 to go with his previous 70-70 for a 54 hole score of 212.

Cooper's fellow professionals were definitely not pulling against him. But off the record, as far as their names were concerned, they feared the pressure and last round jitters would get him.

Dietz Cagers Win

At the municipal auditorium Saturday morning the Dietz cagers defeated the Lincoln Park All Stars, 49 to 31. Crosby and the two Howard brothers supplied the offensive by gathering 36 points. Shattan and Lindsay starred for the losers. The scorers: Dietz, R. Howard 12, Basch 10, Fay 2, Crosby 12, Diamond 1, Howard 12, All Stars, Armstrong 2, Brink 2, Lindsey 10, Shattan 13, MacCullum 4.

Kerhonkson Trims New Paltz, 32 to 17 For 2d League Win

M. Rauch and Quick Lead Attack With 10 and 8 Points; Locassio Tops Losers

Kerhonkson High School won its second N. O. S. U. League victory Friday night by defeating New Paltz at the latter's court, 32 to 17.

The winners started fast on a center tap play and piled up a 20 to 6 half-time lead which the losers were unable to cut down during the second half of play.

Kerhonkson's margin of victory was surprising in view of the fact that it was playing without the services of Bob Krom, star forward, who was recently ruled ineligible.

In a preliminary game the New Paltz Jayvees whipped the visitors, 21-19. New Paltz had a 16 to 5 lead at the end of the first two quarters of play.

Brown Servicenter Fire on Sunday

Excelsior Dress Company on Second Floor Is Damaged by Smoke

Fire, of undetermined origin, that originated under a work bench in the room on the first floor used as a tire storage and for office purposes, in the Brown Servicenter on Broadway at Pine Grove avenue, caused an alarm of fire to be turned in from Box 1112, at 11:36 o'clock Sunday morning. The fire did considerable damage to the room in which it originated as well as smoke damage to the plant of the Excelsior Dress Company on the second floor of the building. There was no damage on the third floor, also used for dress factory purposes. The room in which the fire started was formerly used as a grease rack or pit, and now is used for vulcanizing tires and also for office purposes. There were a number of tires and tubes stored in the room.

The fire, which started under a work bench spread to the tires and tubes which caused a very heavy smoke to fill the building. The heat from the fire also fused the heads of the sprinkler system and there was some damage from water.

The heavy smoke handicapped the firemen somewhat in fighting the fire, but they had it under control and prevented it from spreading from the room in which it originated.

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the fire department was called to 611 Abiel street when an auto owned by George Kunn had caught fire. The fire was extinguished with but slight damage to the car. According to the fire department Kunn had lighted a piece of paper and placed it under the carburetor, which caused the gas to ignite.

paying a fair share of taxes on admittedly large profits.

Influential legislators also were reported to have under consideration a treasury suggestion for establishment of a graduated scale of regular and surtax corporation levies of the 30 per cent tax that now prevails on net incomes above $25,000 yearly. The excess profits tax is in addition to this levy.

Employment Gained

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 12 (AP)—New York factory employment in December showed gains of 0.3 per cent over November and 22.4 per cent over December, 1940. The State Labor Department reported today. Payrolls made gains of 3.5 and 44.5 per cent, respectively, as defense industries continued expansion. Despite some slackening at the end of the year, average employment throughout 1941 was 25 per cent above 1940 and payrolls 46 per cent higher. Per capita earnings of employed factory workers in 1941 were 16 per cent above 1940.

Area Dairymen to Hear Talk by Prof. Brownell

All dairymen and others interested are invited to hear Prof. S. J. Brownell of the New York State College of Agriculture, discuss the subject, "Adjusting the Dairy Business to Meet the War Emergency." He will speak at a countywide meeting Tuesday evening, January 13, at 8 o'clock, in the county building at 74 John street in Kingston.

In addition to the talk requested by the county dairy committee of the Farm Bureau, Prof. Brownell will be prepared to answer questions regarding individual problems which those present may have. This meeting is particularly important and timely because of the shortage of labor and materials created by the war.

Ricks Fined $30 on Petit Larceny Charge

On his plea of guilty to petit larceny, Leroy J. Ricks, 44, who gave his address as 71 East Strand, was fined $30 when arraigned before Judge Matthew V. Cahill in police court this morning. Unable to pay the fine he was remanded to the county jail to spend a day for each dollar of the fine unpaid.

Ricks was arrested last week charged with the theft of the plates from the south yard of the West Shore railroad. The hearing had been deferred until morning to afford Ricks an opportunity to pay for the tie plates he had stolen. The amount paid by him was $28.

Home Defense

Seventh Ward Air Wardens

All air raid wardens of the Seventh ward and all others interested in defense, are asked to attend a meeting to be held this evening in Cornell fire house at 8 o'clock. Albert Vogel, air raid warden of that ward would like to see a large attendance at the meeting.

Tenth Ward

An important meeting of all air-raid post wardens, first-aid workers and citizens of the Tenth ward will be held tonight at School No. 8 starting at 7:30 o'clock and lasting not more than one hour. Routine business will be discussed. Reports made by Sector Wardens, short talk by City Chairman Mr. Miller and instructive and interesting lecture on fire protection and incendiary bombs by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy.

It is the duty of all citizens who are able to attend this meeting and get acquainted with your post warden and all other air defense workers for your own protection.

Town of Ulster

A home nursing course is to be started in the fifth district town of Ulster as part of the Civilian defense program outlined at their meeting held recently in the town garage. This class will be formed completely and classes assigned at a meeting to be held on Tuesday evening, January 13, at 7:30 o'clock in the town garage. Classes will be under the supervision of Miss May Lay, R. N., who has volunteered her services in behalf of Civilian Defense. The course is open to all women in the fifth district and it is hoped that several classes may be formed. If anyone wished further information they may call Mrs. Henry Peters, phone 1594-M. Plans are being made to form a first aid class in the near future and this will be under the supervision of a district representative of the New York Telephone Co.

Town of Marbletown

Charles O. Walden, Jr., chairman of the Marbletown Defense Council, has announced the organization of a First Aid Committee to operate under the health organization of which Dr. Edward Shea is chairman with four vice chairmen, as follows: Mrs. Uriah Connor of Kripplush, Mrs. Ernest J. DuBois of Lomontville, Mrs. J. Ellis Briggs of High Falls and Mrs. Harry Snyder of Stone Ridge.

From the list of those who have volunteered groups will immediately be organized to make bandages and other essential items for emergency use. The vice chairmen will also make a survey of the township to find out what coats, blankets, sheets and other equipment are available.

Drive Against Syphilis

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 12 (AP)—Of approximately 160,000 upstate selective service registrants given blood tests for syphilis, about 1.6 per cent had positive results, the state health department announced today. The department added, however, "This is not a true picture of the amount of syphilis among young men since the blood test is not always in agreement with the diagnosis of the disease."

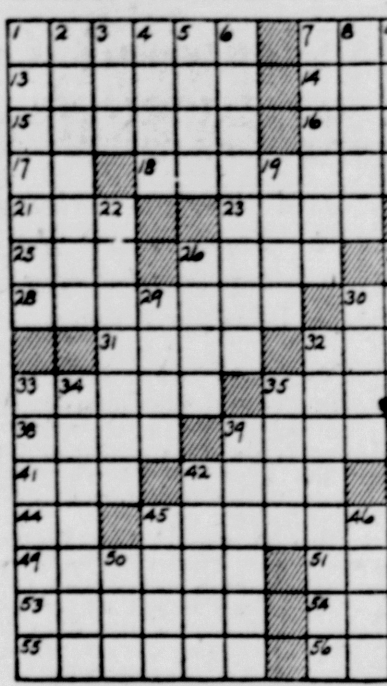

About 50 per cent of the reported cases among service men already were known to the department, health officials explained and about 11 per cent were of recent origin and in the infectious stage. Each case was followed up immediately, the department declared, to permit prompt treatment and tracing of the source, if possible. The department announced a campaign to prevent spread of syphilis and gonorrhea. Sulfathiazole was supplied without charge to every physician in the state and health officials said they have doubled activities in defense areas.

Held on Charges

Neil J. Pelaccio of Newburgh was arrested Saturday night by the police charged with operating an automobile equipped with inadequate brakes and in passing a red traffic light. He furnished bail for his appearance later in police court.

2 Dead, 13 Hurt In Newark Fire

Rages in Four Stories of Old Rooming House

Newark, N. J., Jan. 12 (AP)—Fire that raged through the four stories of an old brownstone rooming house in yesterday's bitter cold killed a young girl and an elderly man and injured 13 others.

The fire, second three-alarm blaze during the early morning hours while the temperature hovered around zero, started in the cellar and crackled to the roof top. Firemen were handicapped in both blazes of undetermined origin as hoses froze to the ground, ice formed on equipment and firemen's uniforms and coated the streets.

In the first fire 40 families were routed from a row of three-story frame houses.

The dead in the second fire were identified as Miss Edith Gundacker, 22, who tried to leap from her fourth-story room window to an adjoining roof and fell to the concrete below, and Frank Cleary, 60, whose charred body was found by firemen going through the ruins.

Five firemen were among the injured.
